UNPLEASANT WEATHER, HOWEVER, DID NOT LESSEN THE CROWDS NOR PUT A MUFFLER ON THE ENTHUSIASM

(Associated Press)

Philadelphia, Oct. 8, 3:10 p. m.—The Philadelphia Nationals defeated Boston Red Sox here today, in the first game of the World's Series, by a score of 3 to 1.

GAME WAS PLAYED ON DAMP GROUNDS

Philadelphia, Oct. 7.—Baseball fans from many sections of the country who are here for the opening game of the World's Series, awoke this morning to find the sky overcast. The National League Park was soaked, a steady rain falling all night. At 10 o'clock, however, the sun came out and is now shining brightly, indicating that the opening game will surely be played. The umpires will examine the grounds about noon and it is not known until their report is made whether the game will be played or not.

Manager Carrigan said that Boston is in fine shape. He expects a hard contest, but believes his team will win. Manager Moran of the Phillies is also confident. Killifer probably won't play, his arm still being sore. Scores of men and boys were out all night, waiting for the bleacher gates to open.

The batteries will likely be Alexander and Burns for Philadelphia, and Shore and Cady for Boston.

PLAYED IN NATIONAL LEAGUE PARKS

DESCRIPTION OF THE GROUNDS IN WHICH THE WORLD'S SERIES WILL BE PLAYED

(Associated Press)

New York, Oct. 6.—Twelve months ago when the Boston Nationals defeated the Philadelphia Athletics for the world's title of baseball champions, all the games were played on American League grounds and this year the contending teams will meet in National League parks. An exchange of courtesies between Presidents Gaffney and Lannin of the rival Boston clubs made possible an additional seating capacity of the games last year. In return for the kindness of President Lannin last season, President Gaffney has placed Braves Field at the disposal of the American League pennant winners for the coming series thereby affording accommodations for several thousand additional spectators.

The new home of the Boston Nationals, where at least half of this year's battle will be staged, will seat possibly a few hundred in excess of 40,000 persons. At first an erroneous impression prevailed that Braves Field after the erection of temporary stands would accommodate over 52,000 spectators. In fact, a semi-official statement was made to that effect.

Since President Lannin accepted the offer of President Gaffney, Red Sox officials have been busily engaged checking up the seating capacity of the National League grounds, and they found the first reports to be considerably in excess of the actual figures reached after a thorough inspection of the grand and other stands, and bleachers. It has also transpired that a municipal ordinance exists which prohibits the erection of temporary structures and as the time is too short in which to build permanent stands on the grounds, a liberal estimate of the park's capacity places it at about 42,000. This, however, will be far in excess of the possibilities of Fenway Park, where 35,520 persons, the largest attendance ever registered at a baseball game in Boston witnessed one of the games between the Braves and Athletics last October.

The playing field extends 385,500 and 580 feet respectively from the home plate to left, center and right fields. Ranging over the broad reaches of Braves Field, the fences in which are from 365 to 526 feet beyond the home plate, the fleet Boston fielders will have ample room for their great speed.

Another asset to the Red Sox in their home games will be these great distances to the fences on Braves Field which, unlike the shorter boundaries of the Philadelphia park, offer no easy mark to home run drives on flights within the reach of a fast fielder. Much of Philadelphia's offensive strength will be robbed by this fact, Red Sox supporters believe.

National League Park, the home of the Phillies for many years, is one of the smallest grounds in either the National or American leagues. Its grand stand, which is of the double deck cantilever type, was the first modern structure of the kind in the United States. Built of brick and steel, it was the finest baseball property in the country when constructed but is out-of-date as compared with the greater structures put up in the last few years. With additional seats, temporarily built for the coming series, the seating capacity of the grounds will not be more than 26,000. Probably more than two games of phia, and the park with its short fences will certainly suit the National League hitters. Three of these, Cravath, Luderus and Becher, the pinch batters, are liable to hit one out of the enclosure for a homer, off any of the visiting Red Sox pitchers. When great boxmen are on the mounds runs generally are few and far between and a home run might win a game particularly if Alexander should be pitching for the side accredited with the circuit clout.

CARRANZA IN CONTROL

American Government Will Probably Recognize Him as President of Mexico

(Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 8.—Recognition of the Carranza government in Mexico, it has been learned in official circles, is likely to be accorded by the United States in the new few days.

Recently Carranza authorities gave the American government a statement, which conforms to consular reports, showing that Carranza has achieved a military success in Mexico, controlling most of the states and large cities and he guarantees the protection of the lives and property of foreigners, according to international law.

At a conference of Pan-American diplomats Saturday it is believed the intentions of the United States will be made known. The foreign diplomats will then communicate with their countries so action can be taken by all nations at the same time.

FARMERS' DAY WAS ALMOST A FAILURE

Blitchton Sent in a Sturdy Bunch. Other Communities Conspicuous by their Absence

Owing principally to the rain, Farmers' Day at the Marion County Fair grounds was a near-failure.

Of the country precincts, Blitchton alone was represented. From that solid community came Dr. S. H. Blitch, Messrs. B. E. A. and Gorce Blitch and Miss Legie Blitch, and Messrs. O. S. Sanders, J. W. Coulter and Bolander. The men folks turned in with a vim, while Miss Legie looked after the commissary department.

A few, not very many, from town went out and did good work. Messrs. Louis Lang and John Taylor sent their mowing machines, while Mr. F. W. Ditto thoughtfully provided coffee.

The grounds are much overgrown with weeds and need cleaning up badly. Its the Star's opinion that if the town people will take hold of the matter and give a working on some good day, the country folks will come in force, and all hands can have a frolic and do a lot of work at the same time.

AMERICAN RIGHTS ON THE OCEAN

Will be Demanded in Another Note to Germany this Week

(Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 8.—Secretary Lansing will forward to Berlin this week another note to Germany regarding the American ship William P. Frye sunk by the German raider Prinz Eitel Friedrich. It will acknowledge Germany's acceptance of the American proposal that the treaty of 1828 be submitted to arbitration for an interpretation on whether it permits the destruction of American vessels carrying contraband, and also agrees to the German proposal for a commission to fix damages.

It is understood the American government though taking into account Germany's assurance that ships carrying conditional contraband will not be destroyed, asks for assurances that if it be found necessary to destroy American ships carrying absolute contraband, there shall be given ample warning. It is considered likely that the correspondence will open up to this connection a new point as to whether the transfer of passengers and crew of an American vessel to small boats constitutes "a place of safety" within the meaning of international law. In the case of the Frye, the commander of the Eitel Friedrich took the passengers aboard his own vessel.

When the American ship Leelanaw was sunk by a German submarine because she carried a cargo of absolute contraband the crew was taken aboard the submarine itself.

Strong Anglo-French Forces Moving to Help the Serbians

GREEKS ASSUME ATTITUDE OF BENEVOLENT NEUTRALITY AND ROUMANIA REMAINS AT A STANDSTILL

(Associated Press)

London, Oct. 8.—The Teutonic invasion is in full swing. Under Field Marshal Von Mackensen, the Austro-German forces are seeking to rush southward in an attempt to seize the trunk railway from Belgrade to Saloniki and Constantinople. The next move is with Bulgaria. Whether she will attack Serbia from the rear, or maintain a watchful attitude is a matter of surmise. The situation is such that her entry into the war seems a matter of hours only.

Russian warships are reported to be bombarding Varna, Bulgaria.

French and British troops are being rushed from Saloniki. Meanwhile at the point where the railway approaches nearest to the Bulgarian border, allied and Bulgarian troops are being massed.

Italian sources report Serbia moving records, and archives from Nish to Istip, near the Greek border.

It is expected that the Serbian army, having been rebuilt and stiffened with allied troops, will offer stubborn resistance.

BOMB DROPPERS WELCOMED IN BULGARIA
